

OSHA's Emergency COVID-19 Vaccination and Testing Standard

SmithAmundsen; Webcast
November 17, 2021

Watch our on-demand November 17th briefing on the OSHA's Emergency COVID-19 Vaccination and Testing Standard. OSHA's promised Emergency Temporary Standard (ETS) requiring employers with one hundred or more employees to ensure their employees are either fully vaccinated or tested for COVID-19 on a weekly basis was published last week. As it currently stands, there is a 30 day comment period, so employers within the scope of the ETS do not have to comply with its provisions until December 6, 2021, and for the provisions relating to weekly testing for unvaccinated employees, that deadline January 4, 2022. Join Matt Horn and John Hayes for a practical discussion about what the ETS requires and how to efficiently and effectively comply with those requirements.

Matthew Horn and John Hayes present.

PROFESSIONALS

John R. Hayes
Partner

Matthew Horn
Partner

RELATED SERVICES

COVID-19 Resource Center &
Task Force

Employment Advice &
Counsel

Government Regulation,
Audit & Compliance

Labor, Employment, Benefits
& Immigration

OSHA

Vaccine Mandates in the Workplace