

What is Your Legal Exposure When Using Third-Party Cloud Providers

3rd Annual Financial Services Cybersecurity Conference, Indiana Infragard Members Alliance; Carmel, IN March 22, 2018

The cost of supporting Computer Information Systems Programs (CISP) is ever-increasing. Outsourcing has become a preferred method of cost containment for CISP systems across the Financial Sector domains (banks, credit unions, trust companies, financial advisors, etc.). Yet even for these third-party providers, the cost of deploying systems has become difficult to maintain.

The Indiana Infragard Members Alliance hosts its third annual Financial Services Cybersecurity Conference in Carmel Indiana where industry professionals discuss various issues when using third party providers. In her breakout session, Molly Arranz discusses legal exposure when using third-party cloud providers.
